Ottawa Conference Is Directors' Meeting Of the British Empire

New York, July 14—The Imperial Economic Conference which opens at Ottawa July 21 is really a meeting of the board of directors of the British Empire.

Things have changed since the days before the war, and like every other large corporation the Empire must seek new sources of income and new markets for its goods.

In the old days the mother country could count on a large income from loans made abroad. She sold her goods where she could and bought where the price was best. The dominions also bought in the open market and sold wherever they could find a buyer.

But now England is paying instead of collecting. It is harder to find a market for goods. The dominions have shown a tendency to assert a larger measure of independence. They too are having their troubles keeping out of the red.

So Great Britain is going to Ottawa in the hope of making a business deal with Canada, oldest of the dominions; South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and Newfoundland. India, hoping to learn something to her advantage, will be represented although she is not yet of dominion status. The Irish Free State also will attend.

The most important thing which came out of the last imperial conference, at London in 1930, was the Statute of Westminster, an act of Parliament which renounced forever the right of the mother country to veto or override legislation of the dominions. It severed almost the last formal bond which bound the dominions to Great Britain, leaving only the oath of allegiance to the King.

Now the Free State wants to abolish that, in its present form. The dispute which has been going on between the Free State and the British government may put Ireland at a disadvantage in negotiating for economic privileges at Ottawa.

Economic Issues Most Important Top

And economic issues are by far the most important to be discussed at the conference.

For many years 70 per cent of the imports into the British Isles have come from countries outside the British Empire. If the dominions will buy more from the mother country, England can return the favor by taking a greater part of her imports from the dominions.

More wheat from Canada and Australia and less from the United States and Argentina; more dairy product strom New Zealand, Australia, and the Irish Free State, and less from Denmark and the other Scandinavian countries; more meat from Australia and less from the United States and the Argentine.

These are the plums the dominions can pick from the British tree. But there is a price:

More automobiles, agriculture implements, machinery, iron and steel, boots and shoes, textiles and wearing apparel from Great Britain, and less from the United States.

The idea is for Great Britain to give the dominions, and to receive from them, either low tariffs or no tariffs at all, but that is not so easy as it sounds.

The foreign countries which now sell Great Britain 70 per cent of her imports also absorb 55 per cent of British exports. Whatever is done at Ottawa must not disturb these non-empire markets too seriously or England will lose more than she gains.

Argentina, for example, is one of the best markets for British machinery and textiles. If Argentine wheat suffered in competition with British wheat, Argentina might be expected to retalitate, perhaps by boosting the tariff on British imports or by granting a preference to the same products from the United States or other countries.

WARNED AGAINST HELPING CUSTOMERS TO EVADE TAX

New York, July 14 (AP).—Members of the New York Stock Exchange were warned today by exchange authorities against helping their customers evade the transfer tax on borrowed stocks by failing to deliver instead of borrowing stocks to deliver upon short contracts.

The Exchange said it had learned that certain short sellers had instructed their brokers to fail to deliver instead of borrowing stocks, a practice which the exchange regarded as an attempt to evade the transfer tax. Members were ordered to make prompt deliveries of securities against any short sales.

Drawings on Exhibition

Eloise Howard is showing drawings in color and wood-engravings in the new exhibition place, the Woodstock Room in the Jack Horner Shop, Woodstock, July 16 to 22nd. The drawings are the results of much observation all about and in about the Catskills this last winter. Among the mountains caught in different moods are High Point, Overlook, Samuel's Point, Indian Head and Mt. Hunter. An engraving of Wittenberg Valley with snow is her latest work and is especially admired.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, July 14 (AP).—Treasury receipts for July 12 were $2,318,723.64; expenditures $11,401,926.41; balance $272,934,155.24. Customs duties for 12 days of July $6,454,329.85.

Despondent Over Long Illness, Kills Herself

Mrs. Nellie Gardner of Shady Found Unconscious With Empty Tumbler Nearby From Which She Had Apparently Taken Lysol.

Mrs. Nellie Gardner of Shady, despondent over long illness, committed suicide Wednesday morning at the home of her son, Decker Gardner. When Mrs. Gardner failed to make her appearance as usual Wednesday morning, her daughter-in-law went to her room and found Mrs. Gardner unconscious with an empty tumbler nearby from which she had apparently taken lysol. This was about 5:30 o'clock and Dr. G. S. Lambert of Woodstock was summoned and made every effort to save the woman. However, his efforts were of no avail and Mrs. Gardner died shortly before noon without having regained consciousness.

Notes were found in the room indicating that Mrs. Gardner had become discouraged over illness and had planned to take her own life.

Mrs. Gardner is survived by one son, Decker Gardner, a brother Joseph Gridley, and a grandson. She is the widow of Ezra Gardner, who was born and resided for many years in the town of Woodstock and at one time lived for several years at Ulster Park.

Coroner Conner was notified of the death by Dr. Lambert but as the case was one which had received medical attention prior to death it was not necessary for the coroner to take action. The body was turned over to Undertaker V. N. Lasher at Woodstock. Funeral services will be held from the home of the son at Shady at 2 o'clock Saturday.

Argentina and Uruguay Break

Buenos Aires, July 14 (AP)—A complete and sudden break in diplomatic relations between Argentina and Uruguay added new heat today to the boiling cauldron of South America's dissensions.

There are, brought up to date: Revolts in Brazil, in Peru and in Ecuador; the collapse of the peace negotiations which sought to end the ancient feud between Paragu y and Bolivia over the Gran Chaco boundary dispute; and the new rupture between Argentina and the Uruguayan republic.

Irked because Argentina showed a disposition to believe reports that General Severo Toranzo, former commander of the Argentine army and now an exile in Uruguay, was aboard the cruiser Uruguay when it came to Buenos Aires to assist in the celebration of Argentina's Independence Day July 9, the Uruguayan government announced yesterday it had severed diplomatic relations with Argentina.

The report that General Toranzo was aboard the ship proved erroneous.

Last night Uruguay recalled its ambassador at Buenos Aires and invited the Argentine Ambassador to leave Montevideo. While Uruguayans cheered loudly the government's "defense of the national integrity" at Montevidea, Argentinians here devoured the extra editions of the newspapers incredulously.

Confidence was expressed here that the breach would be healed soon, but in the meantime, it was said, the problem of preserving order in Argentina will be more difficult because the break means an end to the cooperation of Uruguay in keeping suspected agitators out of this country.

Final Action On Huge Relief Bill

Washington, July 14 (AP)—Congress worked hard today to send a lusty infant, the new $2,122,000,000 relief bill, to President Hoover, its godfather, and go home this week.

Only two days old, the measure, christened the "Hoover Bill" by the Democrats, had both house and senate sanction. As is usual with infants, however, all its features had not taken final form, the moulding process was left to conferees representing senate and house ideas. They hoped to get it into such shape that it would satisfy the president and not be sent back to the capitol with another vigorous veto note.

The house had voted 296 to 46 to let the youngster go to Mr. Hoover without carrying permission for federal reserve banks to discount notes of private individuals. Although some administration followers thought this would make it not so welcome at the White House, Secretary Mills and Governor Eugene Meyer of the Federal Reserve Board did not oppose it.

Two Men Killed When Auto Hits Tree

Sharon, Conn., July 14 (AP).—Donald R. McIntyre, 27, of Philadelphia, and Stockbridge, Mass., and Leslie Rathbun, 29, of Stockbridge, died in a hospital here today shortly after their automobile veered off the highway and struck a tree in Amenia, N. Y. The car, which was believed to have been operated by McIntyre, caught fire.

McIntyre was employe- by a paper company in South Lee since last fall. Rathbun was the son of Walter E. Rathbun, Stockbridge merchant.

America Swelters Under Heat Wave As Records Are Broken

By The Associated Press

Most of the United States sweltered today in a heat wave which promised to break seasonal records for many places.

One death caused by heat was reported during the early hours at Newark, N. J., where a temperature of 80 at 5 a. m. presaged a scorching worse than yesterday's.

Temperature alarmists in Missouri and Kansas freely predicted the thermometers there would go over 100 before the day was very old. Omaha, with 87 at 9 a. m., was expecting the coming maximum to break the year's record. Baltimore was already over the year's record with the same temperature.

Philadelphia at 8 a. m. saw the thermometers go to 88, five degrees higher than at the same hour yesterday. Texas and Oklahoma were enjoying a normal 90 degrees.

Hope for relief in numerous places was pinned on showers predicted by the weather bureau for tonight. The bureau reported generally warmer weather in the Canadian northwest, the Dakotas, Ohio and Tennessee valleys and middle Atlantic states and southern New England.

New York's temperature started at 78 at 8 a. m. and rose to 80 by 11 a. m.

Some other high temperatures before noon today were Atlanta 92; Birmingham 89; Memphis 95; Detroit 74; Syracuse 74; Louisville 84; Providence, R. I., 80; Washington, D. C., 86; New Haven, Conn., 82; Boston 79; Richmond, Va., 80.

There were no complaints from the Pacific Coast where temperatures ranged in the comfortable space between 54 and 60.

KEPT GLIDER IN AIR FOR SEVEN HOURS

Elmira, N. Y., July 14 (AP).—Good lifting breezes have favored glider pilots entered in the third annual national soaring contest since their meeting opened here Monday.

Yesterday the air was alive with gliding planes, one, piloted by Martin Schempp of Pittsburgh, Pa., remaining aloft seven hours. Two minor accidents marred the day's program. Dr. Frank Gross, Akron, O., and Allen Rooks, Providence, R. I., damaged their landing gears in forced landings.

The fair breezes this year have been in welcome contrast for the pilots, to the weather of last year's meeting. During that meet a succession of calm days kept pilots landbound for days.

2 TRAIN RIDERS KILLED BY BRIDGE GIRDERS

Albany, N. Y., July 14 (AP).—Two train riders were killed by the steel supporters of bridges in separate accidents today.

A man believed to be Andrew Awasick, a mine laborer, was battered to death against the girder of a bridge as he sought to swing up between cars of a fast moving passenger train.

Railroad workers at the Selkirk reclassification yard of the New York Central found the body of another man, not immediately identified, on the top of a box car, his head crushed by what apparently was the impact of a bridge girder as the car sped along the main line.

COMPLETING TASK OF PUTTING REBELLION DOWN

Rio De Janeiro, July 14 (AP).—The Brazilian government today had bottled the Sao Paulo revolt within the borders of that state and it proceeded immediately to follow up its advantage by mobilizing men, money and munitions to complete the task of putting the rebellion down.

Confidence was expressed that this would be accomplished in days instead of weeks. A credit of $1,500,000 was decreed to meet the expense of the campaign.

There was a feeling in some quarters, however, that unless the rebels, who have constituted themselves the "Constitutionalist Army," are disposed to arbitrate, the trouble may continue for several weeks.

BRITISH TREASURY IS THRIFTY WITH OFFICIALS

London, July 14, (AP)—Seven British cabinet ministers on the way to Ottawa for the Imperial conference will have personal problems of economics in addition to the more serious issues they are to discuss with the dominions.

The thrifty British treasury allows them only $2.50 a day for personal expenditures in addition to the necessary official outlay. The allowance is $2.00 for junior ministers and only $1 for members of the staff.

Overdose of Sleeping Potion.

Paris, July 14 (AP)—Despite the efforts of doctors who worked 56 hours to save her life, Mrs. Katherine Whelan Gordon-Ellis, daughter of the late Frederick Whelan, American cigar store executive, died last night in the American Hospital. The doctors said death resulted from an overdose of a sleeping potion. She was 25.

Public Intoxication Charge.

Emery Osterhoudt, 47, of Highland, was committed to the Ulster county jail Wednesday to await a hearing before Justice Joseph Deyo on a charge of public intoxication.

Governor To Enter Massachusetts Bay

New Bedford, Mass., July 14 (AP)—Abandoning his plans to visit Woods Hole, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt and his party aboard the yawl Myth, unexpectedy put in here today for supplies. The New York governor indicated he would proceed to Wings Neck, the anchorage at the entrance to the Cape Cod canal where vessels wait their turn to pass through that waterway.

The northeast wind made this old whaling port much more accessible than Woods Hole, his original destination when he put out from Cuttyhunk this morning. His change in plans, however, was due to the fact that he learned Charles R. Crane, United States minister to China during the Wilson administration, could not reach Woods Hole in time to see him.

After Governor Roosevelt passes through the Cape Cod canal he will find few suitable anchorages this side of Boston, more than 50 miles away.

The Governor called the Crane summer home at Woods Hole by telephone to make known his change of plans, occasioned by the absence of the former minister.

The Myth made a fast passage across Buzzards bay, her lee rail hove down to the sea by a strong northerly breeze.

Governor Roosevelt said he expected to go through the canal this afternoon and enter Massachusetts bay. He did not announce the harbor in which he would drop anchor for the night, although several would accommodate the Myth and various Massachusetts yacht clubs are anxious to have the Governor and his party as their guests.

Senate Begins Study Of Loans

Washington, July 14 (AP).—An inquiry into every loan that has been made by the Reconstruction Corporation was undertaken today by a special Senate committee with a demand for the relief organization's records.

High up in the committee's program was the design to scan the $80,000,000 that went to the Central Republic Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, of which Charles G. Dawes, former head of the corporation, is chairman.

That loan has been cited in Congress as the largest to any bank. Suggestions of favoritism have been voiced.

The request for a detailed report of loans was embodied in a letter from Chairman Couzens of the special committee to Eugene Meyer, head of the board.

Determination to study the loan to the Dawes Bank was indicated by Couzens in asking the senate to approve his resolution for the inquiry. He called attention to the discussion of the loan and said:

"There is, in my judgment, considerable unrest in respect to the type of loans and the security that is being put up for the loans aggregating $1,000,000,000 already made by the reconstruction finance corporation.

"In view of the circumstances, it occurred to me that a senate committee might examine the records and see whether the loans were being made in accordance with the law and that they were adequately secured."

Change Method of Delivering Bills

Gas and electric bills will be delivered by company messengers rather than through the mails, beginning today, according to announcement made by the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation. This change will apply only to city districts.

The keeping down of operating costs is the chief reason for the change, but another factor is the additional employment given to company employes in delivering the bills. Some of the men so employed would undoubtedly have to be released at this time except for this personal delivery plan.

A number of public utility companies are now following this plan of messenger delivery, and a careful study of its possibilities was made by the Central Hudson before the move was decided upon.

The new method of delivering bills will make no change in the method of payment since payment may still be made by mail or in person at company offices.

Water Department Open Later Saturday

The office of the water department at the city hall will remain open Saturday afternoon until 4 o'clock instead of closing at noon, the usual Saturday hour. This is to give all who have not paid their water taxes a special chance to do so before the last day, Wednesday, July 20.

That Kingston is being furnished with good water is shown by the following excerpt from a letter sent to the department by the state board of health: "It is pleasing to note the report, recently given, indicates continuous careful supervision and the delivery of water of satisfactory sanitary quality."

St. Lawrence Treaty For Gigantic Seaway Is Being Negotiated

United States and Canada Settle Differences on $600,000,000 Project To Make Possible St. Lawrence-Great Lakes Waterway.

Washington, July 14 (AP)—A treaty representing the results of give-and-take negotiations between the United States and Canada is being drafted to make possible the $500,000,000 St. Lawrence-Great Lakes seaway.

As state department officials got the agreement ready for signature here, possibly within a week or two, some new details of the treaty were given out.

Canada won on the biggest stumbling block that developed in discussions of the 27-foot channel to let ships from all the world find their way to the heart of the continent. She had insisted upon two dams to utilize water power; the United States had argued for one.

President Hoover, so the state department said, ended the controversy on this point when he asserted he didn't care particularly whether there was one dam or two, but wanted the seaway. The negotiators took him at his word.

Other details, the state department said, included:

The treaty will carry no estimate of the total cost.

Costs of electrical installations in New York state and Ontario to utilize 2,000,000 horsepower will be borne by those states.

Each country will be credited for expenditures already made on waterways such as the Soo and Welland canals.

Power is to be equally divided, each nation settling related problems directly with its states.

DECLARES BOTH CONSUMERS AND PRODUCERS ARE CHEATED

New York, July 14 (AP).—Edwin C. Riegel, president of the Consumers' Guild of America, charged today that both consumers and producers were being cheated "in this milk racket."

Riegel was not a scheduled witness before the special legislative committee investigating the milk industry, but he asked permission to testify, telling the committee that his organization was non-stock, non-profit making body formed "to increase the purchasing power and decrease the corruptive power of money."

He asked Senator Perley A. Pitcher of Watertown, N. Y., whether the inquiry would "cover the health department." Senator Pitcher, who is chairman of the committee, replied that it would, insofar as milk is concerned. Riegel then said that investigation by his organization had disclosed that the producers only got one-quarter of what the consumer paid for milk and that both were being cheated.

Representatives of milk companies invited to testify objected to Riegel's testimony at this time and he was compelled to wait until later in the day.

EVANGELIST REPORTED IN PRECARIOUS CONDITION

Los Angeles, July 14 (AP).—Evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton was reported by her physician, Dr. Edward H. Williams, as being in a "precarious" condition today.

Her removal from a Lake Elsinor resort to a Los Angeles hospital in an ambulance was ordered. She was reported to have lapsed into a coma last night.

"Mrs. Hutton's condition can now be regarded as precarious," said Dr. Williams. "She is an awfully sick woman.

"She must be removed to a hospital and kept there. There is a strong possibility that she may suffer a cerebral hemorrhage from the brain concussion."

Mrs. Hutton has been ill since she suffered a nervous breakdown more than a year ago.

$3,000,000 Fire Razed Heart of Coney Island

Fire Started in Rubbish Heap and Swept Three Square Blocks of Famous Resort Destroying 50 Bungalows and Houses, 6 Bath Houses, 200 Parked Cars, Apartment House and Amusement Places—Thousands Homeless.

New York, July 14 (AP)—The heart of Coney Island is a three-million dollar ash pile today, but the bands play on.

Fire that started in rubbish under the boardwalk—Coney Island's polyglot promenade—swept three square blocks of the resort late yesterday.

While a carousel sent its monotonous music piping down through rolling waves of smoke, the fire, bellowed by a fresh breeze off the ocean, destroyed:

50 bungalows and house; 6 bath houses and bathing pavilions; 200 parked automobiles; the Pergola; the "Streets of Bagdad" (an amusement place); a small apartment building; five blocks of the boardwalk and most of the buildings fronting on that section of the two mile promenade. This was the principal destruction. Two score houses and several business places were damaged by fire.

At St. Joseph's Orphan Home on the boardwalk 300 children were lined up in fire drill as the flames licked out in its direction. Firemen brought the blaze under control before it could reach the orphanage.

5,000 Lost Clothes.

Many thousands were made homeless. At least 5,000 bathers among the 25,000 in the surf at the time, lost their clothes and personal possessions as the fire destroyed bath houses in which their clothes were lockered.

Two hundred persons were injured seriously enough to need first aid attention. Only two, however, were reported seriously hurt. Both were firemen.

Every piece of fire apparatus in Brooklyn was called out. Darkness was falling before the fire was under control. It was still smouldering today.

Biggest Fire.

It was the biggest fire Coney Island ever had; and it was a great free show for the 150,000 men, women and children who watched it. Even the Dreamland fire of 1911 when property damage in the millions resulted, could not compare with yesterday's fire. The Dreamland fire destroyed an amusement place. Yesterday's fire destroyed homes, brought suffering to hundreds, inconvenience to thousands and damage to a wide area.

Twenty-five thousand persons in bathing suits stood along the beach to the edge of which the fire came, and watched. Where the flames roared hottest the bathers were forced back almost to the water's edge.

Many thousands, at the first sight of the fire, dashed for the bathing houses and succeeded in getting their clothes. About two thousand others, intent in watching the fire, forgot their clothing until the flames were crackling among the bath houses. Then it was too late.

Big Personal Losses

No estimate of the personal losses suffered by bathers could be made. It ran unquestionably into the tens of thousands. Adding to their loss was their predicament of being many miles from home with only a bathing suit and no funds for transportation. Subway and street car companies helped solve this dilemma by providing free transportation home to those in bathing suits. Police also commandeered buses in the emergency.

In addition to the bath houses and private homes destroyed, the fire wiped out scores of small shops selling curios, antiques and souvenirs.

Their homes gone thousands slept last night on the beach, canopied only by the sky which threatened intermittently to give them a wetting. Others of the homeless took advantage of offers of shelter in theatres and other public buildings. More than 500 persons lost their homes in the destruction of the one apartment building that went before the flames.

5,000 Homeless

Police estimated the total number of homeless at 5,000. Policemen were on duty through the night arranging provender for the hungry.

During it all, with ambulances forcing their way with difficulty through packed streets, and with thousands of men and women running about in bewildered stampede before the roar of fire fighting equipment, Coney Island went on with its play. Ferris wheels made their slow circles, roller coasters streaked on with their cargoes of laughing youth, and throngs laughing and excited, moved unconcernedly about among the amusements.

The wind which fanned the fire blew in from the water, but the flames did not shoot high. The smoke hung in dense clouds, close to the ground.

Crowd Wanted Nickels.

The lowly nickel became the coin of the hour. The thousands who had lost their clothing and money crowded about the police station. Nearly all of them wanted a nickel; a nickel to telephone, a nickel to get home

Text Of Lausanne Agreement Published

Paris, July 14 (AP)—The French foreign office published this afternoon the text of the "gentlemen's agreement" by which the principal powers concerned in the treaty of Lausanne agreed not to ratify that treaty until each had obtained a satisfactory settlement of its own debts.

The text follows:

"The Lausanne agreement will not definitely go into force until after the ratifications foreseen in those accords.

"Concerning the creditor governments in whose name this processverbal is initialed, ratification will not be effected before a satisfactory settlement is obtained between them and their own creditors.

"They will have every liberty to explain their position to their respective parliaments, but no precise reference to the present arrangement will appear in the text of the accord with Germany.

"If it follows that a satisfactory settlement of their own debts is obtained, the governments of the above-named creditor countries will proceed to ratification, and the accord with Germany will take its full effect.

"But in case the settlement in question cannot be obtained, the accord with Germany will not be ratified.

"A new situation will thus be created and the interested government will have to agree on what they should do.

"In this eventuality the legal position of all the interested governments would become what it was before the Hoover Moratorium.

"Notification of this accord will be made to the German Government."

The agreement is dated at Lausanne, July 2.

The foreign office also published the text of a letter received by Louis Germain-Martin, Minister of Finance, from Neville Chamberlain, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, indicating that Great Britain agrees to the suspension of payment by France of her war debt annuities until the Lausanne Accord goes into force or until it has been decided not to ratify it.

In the event it is not ratified, the letter proposed, Great Britain and France would examine the situation anew.

Heavy Electrical Storm in Ontario

London, Ont., July 14 (AP)—Twisted wreckage, uprooted trees and crops levelled were familiar scenes throughout western Ontario today following one of the season's most devastating wind and electrical storms.

Although no persons met death in the storm yesterday which held traffic at a standstill for two hours, a number of cattle were killed by lightning and several farmers as well as a power plant employe at Strathroy had a narrow escape from similar fates.

Heavy rain accompanied the wind and electric storm. In the north rain acompanied the wind and electric storm. In North and East Lambton as well as in East Middlesex and Sarnia, crops were pounded to the earth, trees uprooted, telegraph poles broken off and farm land badly flooded.

GIRL CHARGED WITH ROBBING PRATTSVILLE HOTEL

Facing a charge of robbing her employer of more than $150 in gold and silver, Mary Volkel, 17, New York city, is in the Greene county jail at Catskill to await the action of the grand jury on a second degree grand larceny charge.

The warrant for her arrest was signed by John Vanderboom, Prattsville boarding house keeper, who claims that the girl rifled his place during his absence Decoration Day week-end.

On the holiday Mr. Vanderboom had business which took him away from the place for several hours. When he returned the Volkel girl was gone and along with her a number of $2.50 and $5 gold pieces, and silver dollars as well as two watches.

Troopers Van Dusen and Knight of the Windham outpost were notified and quickly boiled down the facts in the case and located the missing girl at her home in New York.

Jonathan Swift, 19, of New York city, who was arrested Wednesday night on Railroad avenue by Officer William Hess for public intoxication, was given 10 days in the Ulster county jail this morning by City Judge Bernard A. Culloton.

"Economy" Study Of Roosevelt Program

Albany, N. Y., July 14 (AP).—The "economy" investigation of the Roosevelt administration has covered four departments to date, and, according to the Republican fiscal chairman, "substantial savings" have been pointed out in the experts' report on the departments studied.

The four departments are agriculture and markets, labor, correction and civil service.

The fiscal chairman, Senator Charles J. Hewitt and Assemblyman Fred L. Foster, did not indicate how the substantial direct savings would be effected, but they did say that indirectly savings could be made by charging for services now being given free or for which only a nominal fee is asked. A service of this type is the state market reports. The Department of Agriculture and Markets announced recently that henceforth those who received the reports would be required to pay the postage, collectively totaling about $5,000 annually.

The legislative economy committee will meet shortly to study the experts report on the work to date.

Prohibition Battle To Center On Congressional Elections

By BYRON PRICE

(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington.)

Home from the Chicago conventions, and thinking it over, the politicians are beginning to realize that the prohibition shoe is likely to pinch hardest, not in the presidential race at all, but out in the local elections of senators and congressmen.

Under the constitution, whoever is President after March 4, next, can do very little about the dry laws. Both Mr. Hoover and Mr. Roosevelt can—and probably will—subordinate this issue to the grave question of economic recovery.

But Congress can do a great deal about prohibition. It, not the president, is empowered to propose changes in the constitution. It alone can modify the Volstead Act. The wet and dry societies, and the wet and dry leaders in public life, have been quick to see that, and to apply the pressure where it means something.

It will be vastly more difficult this year than ever before for any candidate for Senate or House, anywhere, to dodge and straddle.

Up to Congress

The Constitution provides just two methods of originating amendments. One is by the action of two-thirds of both houses of Congress. The other is by a national convention, assembled for that special purpose on the petition of the legislatures of two-thirds of the states.

In actual practice, the second method never has been tried, and no one expects it to be tried in this instance. If the dry amendment is to be amended or repealed, it will be up to Congress to take the first step.

Already the organized pressure from both sides is focusing on congressional candidates. The effort to put every candidate on record was reflected in Senator Bingham's demand for an immediate vote on his beer bill, and by the clamor of the wet bloc in the House for a similar showdown.

This is only the beginning. Before it is over, the friends and foes of national prohibition may be counted on to ask the congressional candidates over and over: "Do you favor repeal? Do you favor beer and wine?"

Spotlight May Shift

Incidentally, this offers a field of activity for those who, for one reason or another, do not feel impelled to spend their energies and their influence on behalf of either Hoover or Roosevelt.

Many of the friends of Senator Borah believe he will take the stump for various senatorial nominees favoring prohibition, and say little meantime about the national ticket.

Doubtless such repeal advocates as Alfred E. Smith and Nicholas Murray Butler will be urged to adopt a similar course on the other side of the question.

It is conceivable that, for the first time in American history, the congressional campaigns which always coincide with presidential campaigns but regularly are overshadowed, may in 1932 present the real drama of a presidential year.

Nominees Must Take Note

Of course, as the respective leaders of their parties, the presidential nominees will be compelled to take some notice.

But the very fact of the varying predicaments of the local congressional nominees—such as the embarrassments of Republican repealists and Democratic drys—is sure to soften somewhat the utterances at the top of the tickets, and center the real issue further down.

When Gain Is Loss

What shall it profit, if you have acquired books and have lost the art of reading; acquired influence and lost the joy of usefulness; acquired power and lost the pleasure of service. He that thus gains his life loses it in the gaining. This is an enigma. Ponder it.—Lyman Abbott.

It's the Cigarette that's Milder and Tastes Better!

That's why more and more Smokers are changing to Chesterfield every day

WHEN you are smoking a lot of cigarettes every day, you naturally want a mild cigarette, and smokers try Chesterfields and find out that they are milder and taste better.

Then smokers tell other smokers—"one smoker telling another"—that they find that although they smoke a great many Chesterfields during the day, they never tire of them; and that they have found out that Chesterfield is a milder cigarette, that it is a cigarette that tastes better, that it is a cigarette with a most pleasing aroma.

Some time ago, in a Chesterfield advertisement, there was a statement, "A $90,000,000 Reason," and this means that the larger part of $90,000,000 is invested in the right kind of ripe, mild Domestic and Turkish tobaccos to make sure that Chesterfields are milder and taste better.

May we ask you to try them?

News of Today In Kingston

In union there is strength.

At least the local tailors seem to think so. They're calling a meeting of the round table and making a union to standardize prices. They're also going to raise a few.

For instance in the column of new prices of the united tailors, you'll find that white flannels have jumped from seventy-five cents a dry clean to one "green rug," a dollar. That's really bad for it means gentlemen must be more careful and in being careful a certain amount of attention is necessary as to where one sits, leans, etc.

Academy Green yesterday, looked like Central Park. The small pool in the triangle was being used to a good advantage by the kids in their bathing suits. The water isn't quite a foot deep but it might just as well have been fathoms for they enjoyed it to their heart's content.

The youngsters were standing on the gravel path around the pool in numbers that made it very crowded, standing room only, like the beach at Coney Island.

Kingston dry agents are getting their innings in now by staging several raids in the vicinity of Catskill.

The veterans are advancing. Their front lines are now on the capitol lawn. As the population of Bonus City increases the city boundary moves forward.

A week from Saturday will see all the local National Guardsmen go to camp for their summer training. It lasts two weeks and the boys get plenty of good trainng while under strict military orders.

The horses were transported a week ago and Sergeant John Roosa accompanied them to Pine Camp.

Poll tax payments by 13,360 voters this year shattered all previous records in Palm Beach county, Fla.

WALLKILL WOMEN'S CLUB HELD ANNUAL MEETING

Over 200 citizens of Wallkill attended the annual meeting under the auspices of the Wallkill Women's Club held in the Wallkill park Wednesday afternoon and evening.

The afternoon program began with the singing of the star Spangled Banner by the crowd, followed by a salute to the flag. This was followed by a few words of welcome by Mrs. John Heinle, president of the Wallkill Women's Club. Then followed a baby show, where the pets, dolls and flowers of the village came in for their share of admiration. A rummage sale added much to the interest of the crowd. Soft drinks, ice cream and frankfurters were on sale throughout the afternoon and evening.

Later in the afternoon larger numbers of the community came out to the park to enjoy the cafeteria supper so deliciously prepared by the members of the club. Then followed the program of the evening which was rendered as follows:

Community singing of patriotic songs with salute to the flag. Miss Jeanette Stauttener, trumpeter. Miss Thelma Chrisman, leader. Invocation, Dr. L. G. Leggette of the Reformed Church. Trumpet solo, Miss Jeanette Stauttener. The 4-H Club in State and Nation, M. L. Evans, 4-H Club leader; the county homemaking program, Miss Evelyn Nance, Home Bureau Manager. The Wallkill 4-H Club boy's program, Bernard McCabe. The Wallkill 4-H Girls' Club, Mary McCabe. A few minutes of the Shawangunk Girls' Club, Mrs. Eugene A. Terwilliger, leader. Elizabeth Luthill, president; Doris Tucker, secretary; Jeanette Meredith, Harriet Meredith, Alice Eignor, Margaret Romer, Florence Tucker, Thelma Tucker.

4-H Clubs Home Exhibits

The Shawangunk 4-H Girls' Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Terwilliger, had a lovely exhibit in sewing as follows:

Elizabeth Tuthill—Dress and slips.
Alice Eignor—Dress, slip and shorts.
Jeannette Meredith—Shorts.
Florence Meredith—Shorts and slips.
Harriet Meredith — Shorts and slips.
Florence Tucker — Dress and shorts.
Doris Tucker—Dress.
Thelma Tucker—Dress.

Mrs. Terwilliger discussed the accomplishments of the girls' club. The club gave peppy yells and expressed its appreciation for the meeting which was held largely to acquaint the community with 4-H work.

A bus load of Scouts came over from Camp Wendy and in cooperation with the local Girl Scouts of Wallkill ended the program with charming campfire ceremonies.

Fox Hounds Lost in Sand

During a fox hunt in Lleyn, Wales, hounds ran a fox into the sandhills. Three valuable dogs dug so deep into the sand that they were covered and were lost for three days. After many hours huntsmen and farmers succeeded in tunneling nearly 100 feet into the sandhills, finding two of the hounds alive.

Matters Before The Surrogate

The will of William H. Terwilliger, who died at Kerhonkson April 22, makes many bequests in disposing of an estate valued at not to exceed $10,000 personal. It has been admitted to probate by Surrogate Kaufman on petition of John C. Depuy, one of the executors. V. B. VanWagonen is the attorney. One of the beneficiaries is the Rochester Reformed Church, which receives $500, interest on which is to be used towards paying the minister's salary and for maintenance of the church. Other bequests are: Son, John, Pleasantville, $500; son, William, Endicott, $200; daughter, Rebecca Osterhoudt, Accord, $500; son, Edward L., Kerhonkson, $500; son, George, Millwood, N. Y., $150; daughter-in-law, Nellie Terwilliger, Millwood, $250; grandson, Howard Terwilliger, Kerhonkson, $250; granddaughter, Beatrice Terwilliger, Kerhonkson, $50; grandsons, William Osterhoudt and William Terwilliger, $100 each; grandsons, Donald and Robert Hanford of Unadilla, $100 each; daughter-in-law, Alice Sherman Terwilliger, Kerhonkson, furniture, wearing apparel, silverware and note and interest due; son, Theron and wife, Kerhonkson, mortgage due. All the rest of the estate is left to the son, John Terwilliger, of Pleasantville.

The Kingston Trust Company is the executor under the will of Lydia K. Peterson, who died in Kingston May 5 and which will was recently admitted to probate. Charles W. Walton is attorney for the executor. The estate, which consists of real property valued at to exceed $10,000 and personal of over $5,000, is placed in trust, the income to be paid to the husband, August Peterson, for life. At his death $500 is given to the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Kingston, provided the church raises an equal amount, to be placed in the endowment fund. The remainder is divided, share and share alike among the following brothers and sisters of the testator: Richard Kuehn, Detroit; John Kuehn, Kingston; Herman Kuehn, Upper Montclair, N. J.; Amelia Rice and Floretta Schupp, Kingston; Wanda Straw, Cliffside, N. J.

Memoriam

In memory of Howard Byran Alliger.

Dear Howard you've gone to rest
With God above the skies,
But here on earth
A trail of sorrow lies.

Your ideals were most sincere,
And many a helping hand you lent;
And praise will echo far and near
Of the life you spent.

We miss your smiling face.
But it is far better we know,
For you to live with God above
Than in the pain you've borne below.

TERRIBLE BUT LIKABLE

There was a general impression, conveyed by radio broadcasts and newspaper accounts of the Democratic convention, that the visiting delegates were much annoyed by the Chicago crowds, especially the paying guests in the galleries. The chairman waged a continual struggle with them. They seemed especially inhospitable to William G. McAdoo when he was engaged in swinging the convention to Roosevelt. There have been numerous prophecies in other cities that it would be many a long year before another national convention was held in the Windy City. Yet Chicago papers are now telling how messages of friendly appreciation are pouring into the city, with pledges from delegates and other visitors who say they are going to return next year for the big fair.

One of the messages quoted is from Mr. McAdoo himself to Greeter Gaw, thanking the city for its "fine hospitality" and for the "admirable staff" in charge of the convention, "especially the police." A Republican banker who had remained over for the Democratic convention wired, "I have never seen a convention better handled. I will certainly be on hand next year."

Oh, well, it wasn't so bad, everything considered. Chicago is terrible; but Chicago has a way with her, and can get away with anything. Even that ambitious "Century of Progress" exposition for next year, which now looks impossible, will probably open on schedule time and be a howling success.

FREIGHT CARS ON HIGHWAYS

A recent decision of the United States Supreme Court regarding regulation of motor trucks is hailed by Texas newspapers as "a victory for good roads" and also "a victory for well-regulated transportation."

The court was dealing with a state law which undertook to limit trucks to 7,000 pounds capacity. This limitation, truck-owners argued, would bar from use thousands of motor trucks and thus would be destroying property without due process of law. They also argued that the law was unduly favorable to railroads. The state legislature, in passing the law, had been concerned for the safety of its roads, which were giving way under the battering of heavy trucks; also for the safety of other motor traffic; and to some extent at least a square deal for the railroads which are obliged to build and maintain their own roadways and pay taxes on them.

The Supreme Court, holding the law valid, made these clarifying statements, which should be of interest in all other states:

The State has a vital interest in the appropriate utilization of the railroads which serve its people, as well as in the proper maintenance of its highways as safe and convenient facilities. It can not be said that the State is powerless to protect its highways from being subject to excessive burdens when other means of transportation are available. The use of highways for truck transportation has its manifest convenience, but we perceive no constitutional ground for denying to the State the right to foster a fair distribution of traffic to the end that all necessary facilities should be maintained, and that the public should not be inconvenienced by inordinate uses of its highways for purposes of gain.

COORDINATED INDUSTRY.

In a recent address in Havana, American Ambassador Harry F. Guggenheim offered his idea of the new economic plan the world needs today. "There must be a national and international coordination of the units in industries, with adequate protection to the consumer. If we are going to prevent the ever-accelerating swing of the pendulum from inflation to deflation."

Reiterating the frequently made statement that there is no overproduction or surplus so long as there is any want in the world, he admits that there is certainly "local congestion" which needs to be relieved by better [illegible]. Mass production, cut-throat competition, exhaustion of financial resources are a few of the evils of the present system which helped to bring on the world depression. Reversing the system, until we have regulated production, reasonable competition and spreading around of the buying power, is the basis of his economic plan. "It may require some imagination, perhaps, to visualize a world-coordinated industry," he admits, but the idea is worth the effort. No imagination is needed "to realize that the present order, where millions are either unemployed or insecure in mind, cannot survive and is not worthy of survival."

Mr. Guggenheim is right on many points. But he, too, like so many of the economic planners, does not tell us precisely how to go about achieving this purpose. Obviously it will require both education and evolution. It is an ideal appealing to many thinking persons, but one for which the world hardly seems prepared at present.

HIVES—URTICARIA

There may be some individuals who have never had a single attack of the hives or urticaria as it is called, but most of us, if we will go back far enough, will likely remember one or more attacks.

That an attack of the hives can be brought on any time by some individuals is only too true because they have learned that certain foods will cause urticaria every time they are eaten. Such foods as strawberries, eggs, shell fish and other excellent foods just will not agree with their systems, set up a sort of poisoning, and hives appear.

An interesting point has however been discovered by some of these sufferers. Much to their surprise and satisfaction they find that they are now able to eat some of these foods that formerly caused the hives. While this is due in some cases to the fact that their system has got used (sensitized) to these foods, in other cases it is because they have had some infection cleared from the system—infected teeth, tonsils, gall bladder and so forth. It was this infection that prevented the system from handling certain foods properly and so hives appeared.

It is known that urticaria may be caused by certain foods; by the use of certain drugs; by the serum used in lockjaw, diphtheria, tuberculosis and others; in certain ailments such as malaria, rheumatism, asthma, whooping cough, and other children's diseases; complicating skin ailments such as scabies—the itch; and by a bite or sting of mosquito, bee, wasp or other insect.

What about treatment?

About a year ago I spoke of the results obtained by Dr. L. Dinkin, Berlin, by the use of ordinary baking soda in doses of two to three level teaspoonfuls, three times a day, after meals.

However, as most of the cases arise from something that has been eaten, the first thought should be to rid the system of this substance by the use of Epsom or Rochelle salts.

Local treatment is the use of warm baths in which one or two handfuls of washing soda have been placed.

In severe cases, where swelling of mouth or throat might cause suffocation, a few drops of adrenalin is injected into the skin by the physician.

The Faithful Cheat

BY RUBY M. AYRES

SYNOPSIS: Since she cannot marry Mark Merriman, who is penniless and has no prospects, Sondra does decides to ask John Anderson to give him a position in the Congo, the source of Anderson's wealth. She knows that both men love her, although Anderson is married and separated from his wife, and has never told Sondra of his feelings. He has remained her editor almost her guardian, as problems arise through her lack of money. Sondra is all the more determined not to marry Mark, although she loves him, because her father has told her to marry for money and made her feel she was unfitted to do anything else. At present she lives with her sister Flora, who married Benjamin Lomax because he was wealthy. Anderson tells Sondra, one evening that he has booked the Congo. Nevertheless, Sondra asks him if he will give Mark a post there.

Chapter 4

TINNED FOOD AND LONELINESS

"Yes . . . and I'm sorry for him—he's never had any luck."

"Not the only one, I'm afraid."

"But the only one I am in a position to help—through you," Sondra said.

She spoke casually in a voice that would have deceived many people.

After a moment Anderson said casually:

"I like young Merriman. I believe he is a capable fellow. You might ask him to come and see me."

She caught her breath with a sharp little sound.

"Thank you."

She had got her wish—so easily! Soon—quite soon perhaps there would be miles of sea between her and the man she loved. She had taken the first step that would put him definitely out of her life.

And, woman-like, she felt that her heart would break.

After a moment she spoke again.

"You haven't told me what it's like—out there."

"Do you want the picturesque truth? Or merely the truth?"

"Merely the truth."

"Well then—it's horrible—nearly all the time. You would find it even more intolerable than Evelyn did. Heat, flies, loneliness, tinned food, fever and an ever increasing longing for home—"

Sondra shivered, and he said half whimsically: "You wanted the truth."

"Yes."

After a moment he went on.

"Evelyn and I had the picturesque thing called love, or so we believed—but even love isn't immune from mosquitoes and discomforts; it grows tired and ugly."

"You don't believe in love?"

"Men with a great deal of experience seldom do."

"There must have been some women or one woman who really meant a great deal to you—once?"

"If so, I've forgotten."

He always parried her in this manner; never by conscious look or word had he as yet betrayed what she already knew—that he loved her, and sometimes her vanity wanted to hear him say it.

She said with a faint laugh: "It seems a pity. I should have thought you were the kind of man women would have adored."

"Thank you."

She said quickly: "You are sneering at me."

"No. I was only a little amused. From what you said some men—perhaps more conceited than I am—might have concluded that you found me rather 'adorable' yourself."

"I'm very fond of you—you know that."

He bowed. "And I am very grateful."

"Now you are sneering again. It is I who should be grateful to you."

"For my money?" he asked quietly. "Or for my devotion?"

She said, hoping to rouse him: "So far I have only had your money."

"Perhaps it is all you want," he said.

There was a short silence, then Sondra said vehemently:

"I think money is the most hateful thing in the world."

"Don't you mean the lack of it?" he asked.

"It's the same thing," she maintained. "I believe all the sins of the world are committed either because you haven't any, or because you have too much."

He looked at her steadily.

"What particular sin are you thinking of at the moment?" he asked.

She met his eyes hotly.

"The stupid sin that makes me take money and expensive presents from you—greediness I suppose it is really, and love of luxury."

"The sin which we all commit in some form or another."

"Are you trying to disguise the truth, Sondra?" John asked.

She said with bitter animosity:

"I know you are only saying that to be kind to me, John. I don't want you to be kind, or try to disguise the truth. You know that I'm up to my eyes in debt, and that the only possible way out for me is to marry a rich man as Flora did. I suppose in a way I'm not to blame. I've been brought up so that now it's utterly impossible for me to be happy without the things which only money can buy."

She leaned her chin in her hand. "You can't be happy if you're poor," she said with conviction.

"How do you know?"

"My father used to say that love and marriage ought to be kept quite apart—if you want love to last."

"And is that what you are proposing to do?" Anderson asked.

"What do you mean?"

"Only that Merriman can stay in America if you want him to stay," Anderson said quietly.

The hot blood mounted to her forehead.

"What do you mean? Why should I want him to stay? . . . he isn't anything to me—only just a friend. Why do you say a thing like that?"

"Are you trying to disguise the truth, Sondra?"

She met his eyes unfalteringly, though she stammered a little as she answered:

"Why should I? I have nothing to disguise."

Anderson passed a hand rather wearily across his eyes.

"The music has stopped," he said. "Shall we go back?"

But Sondra did not move; she was twisting her hands together nervously.

"I should hate fevers and tinned food—and loneliness," Sondra said after a moment, trying to laugh.

He rose. "Well—tell young Merriman to come and see me some time."

Sondra rose also.

"John . . . you're not angry with me?"

"There is something troubling you," Anderson challenges Sondra tomorrow.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS—

by John Hix

The ancient inhabitants of Peru believed that the god of fire dwelt in the volcano of El Misti, sacred mountain of Peru, and to win favor of the gods they built a temple within its crater.

The Spanish conquerors followed the lead of the ancient Inca priests. Their friars set up the cross of Christianity in the mouth of the crater, pleading with their God to keep the destructive volcano silent. The volcano of El Misti has not erupted since the discovery of America.

Charles Cabot, of New Haven, raced his homemade outboard motor boat over the finish line of the annual Albany-New York race on the Hudson River just one second ahead of Kenneth MacKennzie. Cabot made the 132-mile run at an average speed of 44.4 miles an hour.

Strange as it seems, every winner averaged 29.8 miles an hour. The three first boats in the 1932 race made the run in less time than the winner of the 1931 outboard classic on the Hudson.

Herman Duke, 19-year-old pitcher for the Sylacauga, Ala., high school baseball team, in a game against the Mignon high school, figured in every put-out of the game by fanning 19 batters, tagging a runner out at home, and throwing seven out at first.

In addition he knocked a home run and a single, helping his team win 5-2.

Old Orders Retained

Some of the standing orders still in force in the British house of commons are over two centuries old. And old Norman French is still in use in certain instances, notably the use of the phrase, "Le Roy le veult" (the king wishes it) in giving the royal assent to a bill.

Speakers "Guillotined"

The guillotine is not an instrument of execution in England as it is in France. It is the name applied to the rule for limiting debate in the house of commons. Members' speeches, not heads, are cut off by use of the guillotine. It is similar to the cloture rule in the American house of representatives.

WOMEN PAST 30—
WATCH YOUR GALL BLADDER

75% of all Gall Bladder Cases are Women—Symptoms that Tell; What to Do

When a woman after 30 hasn't the energy she used to have, tires easily, gets thin and weak, suffers from indigestion and sick headaches and doesn't sleep well—look to the gall bladder.

Your gall bladder stores and pours into your bowels the digestive juice that dissolves fats, neutralizes stomach acidity, thickens digestion and disinfects the bowels so germs and poisons don't form. Gall-bearing, tight girdles and corsolets, each stooping or leaning forward or sitting at a desk or typewriter all day—makes the gall bladder stagnant and sluggish. Then this important digestive juice doesn't flow.

From Germany's greatest chemists comes a simple, pleasant means to make this digestive juice flow freely, and put you on the sunny side of life. MAGNESIA OXOIDS. little white tablets that release pure oxygen. This amazing oxygen—purer than the air you breathe—plus magnesia, gently stimulates the gall bladder, neutralizes burning acidity and sweeps that poison-packed bowel clean.

Take two Oxoids after each meal—and before retiring—drink plenty of water—and you'll jump out of your skin for joy. Such new health! Such robust vigor! Get those MAGNESIA OXOIDS today from your druggist. Refuse, resent any substitute. Rouse that lazy gall bladder—feel like a billion dollars! For sale by all good druggists.

NOW OR NEVER

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

TICK forever, tock forever,
Tick forever, tock,
Tick forever, now or never,
Forever goes the clock.
Age is passing, babes a-borning,
Day, and dark, and light,
Today, tonight, tomorrow morning,
And then tomorrow night.

Time is ticking out a minute,
Minutes making hours,
Hours a day, and each within it
Has its thorns and flow'rs.
Days and weeks and months and seasons
Make at last a year,
Years a life, while learning reasons
And faith is firm and clear.

Where we end it, when begin it,
Long we live, or how,
Life is minute after minute,
And that minute now.
Tick forever, tock forever,
Tick forever, tock.
Tick forever, now or never,
Forever goes the clock.

ALLIGERVILLE.

The occasion celebrated Mr. Christiana's 83rd birthday and his neighbor's and friends together with his own immediate family wish for him many more happy birthdays.

The many people who are compelled to use The Clove hill are quite desirous that the road commissioners or the supervisor of the town of Rochester pass over this road once and witness its deplorable condition. The brush which nearly interlocks over the road, might at least be cut. This road is a direct route over the mountain and is used a great deal.

It is reported that the Jewish boarding houses in St. Josen are filled. Levine Cohen has 400 at the present time. The Markus house in this village is also well filled.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Osterhoudt gave their younger children a very pleasant outing Monday, visiting different places over the mountain.

Miss Eleanor Kemble, a student nurse of Faxon Hospital, Utica, is spending her vacation with her mother, Mrs. Hough.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brooks visited Mrs. Golden Lewis in Rosendale Wednesday afternoon.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Vancouver—Meals for 12 cents are doing a big business for a Vancouver lunch counter owner—and he claims he's making a profit. It figures out: Veal stew six cents, potatoes one cent, doughnuts one cent bread two cents and rice pudding two cents. What? No coffee?

St. Thomas, Ont.—It was a hot day but Thomas Taylor, 75, hesitated to take a chance. There is always the possibility it may turn cold. So he wore his overcoat—and was found by the railroad tracks unconscious, stricken by heat.

Allegan, Mich.—Mrs. Lucile Morgan announces her candidacy for sheriff of Allegan county, presumably on the theory that if elected she will free her husband, in jail on a liquor violation charge. Mrs. Morgan announced her candidacy from hiding, fearing the officers might be looking for her, too.

Buffalo—Judges have sentenced defendants to death but Miss Cecil Wiener, judge in children's court, has been instrumental in saving life. When Mrs. Frances Stefaniak was told she would lose custody of her three children she swallowed poison. Judge Wiener left the bench and prepared an antidote which she administered. Mrs. Stefaniak will recover.

Charleroi, Pa.—"The way I keep my socks up," explained John Cosnik to Tony Cosko, "is like this."

Whereupon he pounded a nail into his leg.

Tony fainted, fell through a window and broke his nose.

John's leg is of wood.

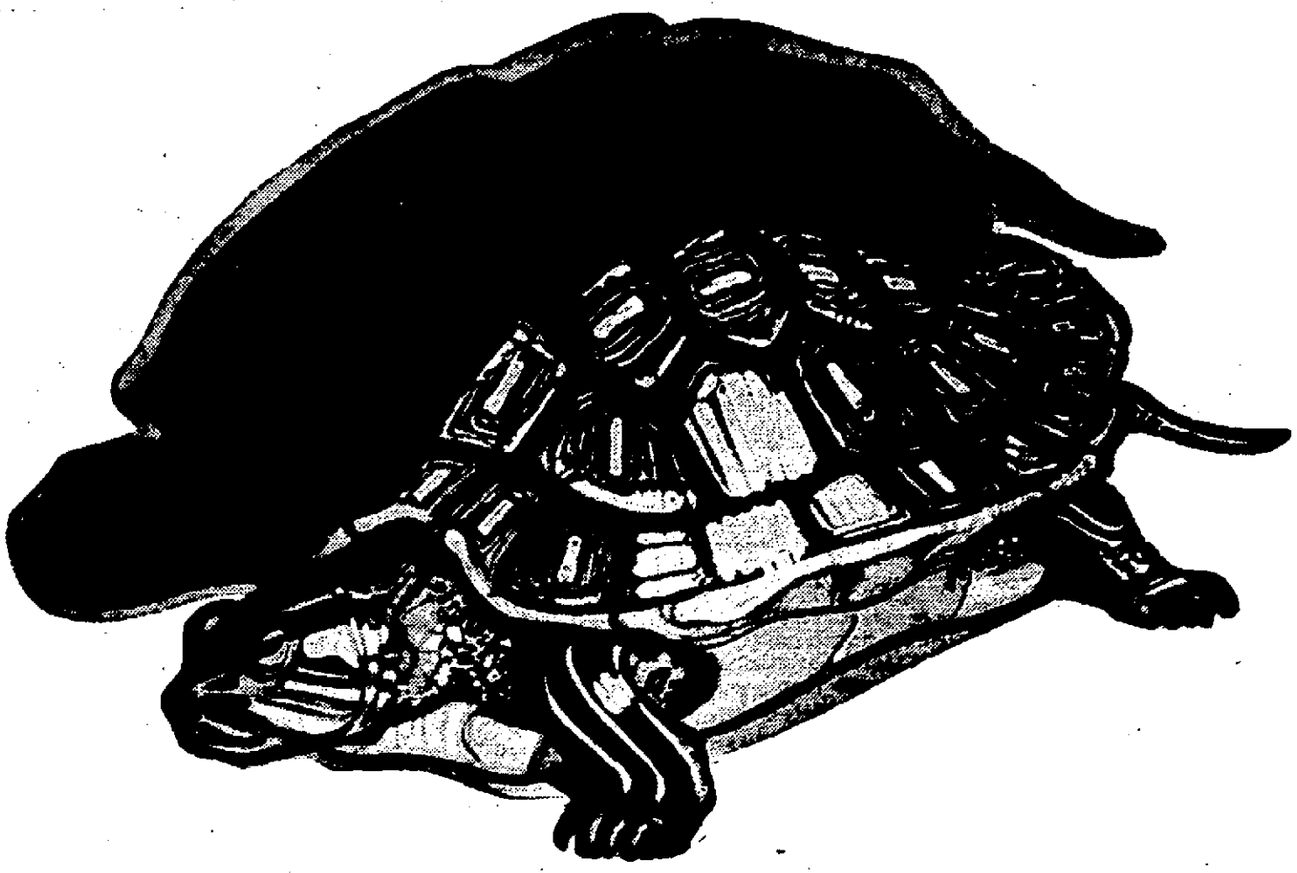
DON'T BE SLOWED DOWN BY STALE GAS



YOU PAY FOR POWER···GET IT!

Only FRESH gas gives you all the power you pay for. Why? Because as gas gets staler, it gets weaker. Loses volatile "easy starting" elements. Falls victim to a chemical change—and gets sluggish and feeble.

Another thing. The staler the gas, the stickier it is. And the more apt it is to make a motor knock.

That's why Gulf is pleased to announce a system that assures you of getting FRESH-MADE gasoline—packed with power. Two important developments make this possible...

First, Gulf refines out of its fine gasoline the complex elements that cause rapid deterioration. Hence, Gulf gas stays FRESH longer.

Second, Gulf speeds you this FRESH gas in a hurry!

Huge Gulf refineries are located in many parts of the country—so that every Gulf station is close to a source of FRESH gas. A vast fleet of tank trucks rushes FRESH gas to Gulf pumps every day.

Don't let stale gas deaden your motor! Get FRESH-MADE gas—packed with power. Get Gulf—for a faster, cleaner, quieter motor.

get THAT GOOD GULF GASOLINE—it's fresh

FASHIONS by ELEANOR GUNN

Fur Accents Add Elegance

(Copyright, 1932, by Fairchild)

Both these costumes were observed recently at a smart gathering, and are examples of the liking that has been expressed this season for fur-trimmed evening fashions. The costume at the left is developed in white rough crepe, the gown following simple classic lines. The cape, that dips at the back, is bordered with silver fox.

The other costume is fashioned of robin's-egg-blue crepe. It is a wrap that has the appearance of a frock and jacket. The easily draped movement at the waistline aids in giving this impression, as does the surplice-wrapped line of the bodice. The fur chosen is summer ermine, applied in interesting manner.

Little-Girl Fashions of Yesteryear Grow Up

New York—When one stops to think about it, it is amusing how many things being worn by grown-ups today were fashionable for the little girls of long ago—plaids, for instance, and sashes. While some of us, under severe cross-examination, might admit remembering when plaids were prime school-room favorites, not many of us would admit, or really could admit, remembering when grown-ups wore plaids for anything like formal functions—or at all. Here's a plaid chiffon frock, right in style. There are also sashes galore, the modern versions having no relation to age.

The great variety noted in coiffures makes for interest in current events and also promises more millinery variety for the new season. The position of the hat seems as important as the hat itself, and there are conflicting opinions, some subscribing to the forward movement, others to the backward tilt, and still others favoring the rakish one-sided angle. But, whatever style of hat you choose, the crown should be as shallow as possible. Paris reports make enthusiastic mention of transparent straws which have the effect of starched organdie. These are especially liked in white.

The brevity of the majority of evening wraps now worn is amusing, especially when one considers how many of them have widened out, usually by the puff-sleeve method. There seems to be some speculation in Paris about the shawl, and a feeling that it may be revived for evening. In view of the enthusiasm with which Spanish and Italian shawls were accepted just a short while back, the chances seem to favor such a revival. When one considers that fringe is being talked of and even now used to some extent, the chances seem even better.

A reawakened interest in satins for evening is another of the latest news items from Paris, which seems to have been quite gay recently.

The Hat "Belongs"

A fashion which was reported earlier from smart Paris events has made a definite registration at one of the smart nearby resorts—the place being Southampton, the fashion, printed accessory ensembles.

From French sports events, earlier in the season, was reported the increasing tendency to match hats and hat trimmings with scarfs, belts, flowers, and so on. The same mode made a decided effect in the gay summer sports costumes seen recently at the popular Long Island resort.

CHIFFON GOES CLANNISH

Copyright, 1932, by Fairchild

A plaid chiffon makes an effective medium for this dress, the background being black, and the plaid in lively green, red and blue. The scarf knots at the shoulders and develops into a cowl drape at the back.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Cottons have made their first ap pearance in the royal enclosure at Ascot. These dresses were of the picturesque type in high-waisted styles with puffed sleeves.

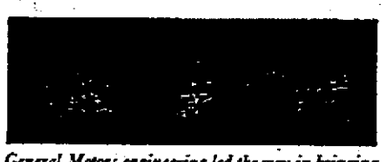
FRIGIDAIRE

OFFERS TWO-WAY ECONOMY

with 2 cylinders instead of 1



General Motors engineering led the way in bringing automobiles from their earliest stage to their present high-powered perfection. And General Motors leads the way in modern electric refrigeration . . . super-powers Frigidaire with two cylinders instead of one!

Every Frigidaire has two cylinders—one more than most electric refrigerators. And you can thank that extra cylinder for these two important Frigidaire economies that low-powered refrigerators can't possibly duplicate:

1. Frigidaire prevents food spoilage and waste — because it is Super-Powered beyond the requirements of the hottest weather or kitchen conditions!

2. Frigidaire reduces actual operating costs to a minimum—because the doubly efficient mechanical unit runs only a small part of the time!

In addition, Frigidaire's two-cylinder unit runs more slowly, more smoothly. That means less wear—a longer life and a quieter one!

Other conveniences combine to make these new Super-Powered models the biggest values in Frigidaire history—the 4 cubic foot model is now priced as low as $130 f. o. b. Dayton. Call at our showroom for a complete demonstration of the Super-Powered Frigidaire!

Edna Wallace Hopper may have all that youthful complexion she claims to have but she should have that voice of hers filed or scraped.

Badly Smitten.

I was charmed by the look in her eye,
By her nightingale voice I was smitten,
By her glorious hair I was bitten.
She's really the charmingest girl, sir,
In her arms any man would find bliss, sir.
But what struck me most about her
Was her hand when I started to kiss her.

Host—When I was a young man, I always said I'd never be satisfied until I'd smothered my wife in diamonds.

Guest—Most laudable. But why in diamonds?

A failure who understands why he lost, and blames the right person, who is himself, has some elements of greatness.

Sherlock—Ah, Watson! I see you have put on your summer underwear.

Watson—Marvelous, Holmes! How did you deduce that?

Sherlock—Well, you have forgotten to put on your trousers.

TAKE IT OR LEAVE IT: It's a consolation to know that those who live by taxes shall perish by taxes. . . . . It would serve some of these hoarders right, too, if they forgot where they hid it. . . . . Only exceptional men can run enterprises on idealistic lines and make them pay. . . . . We can't figure it out why a girl who lives on $12 a week before marriage has to ask for $200 a month allimony. . . . . The average person's imagination is what enables physicians to make a comfortable living. . . . . Believe it please, there are fellows so tight that they regret it when the pores function. . . . . Buying her too big a stone has put more than one boy on the rocks. . . . . Maybe so many society girls go on the stage because it has become a matter of good form. . . . .

Mother (to little Jessie)—Don't be so noisy. Why can't you be quiet like Jimmie?

Jessie—Oh, he's got to be quiet. You see we're playing he's daddy coming home from the Elks and I'm you.

A lady memoer says she has never seen a congressman drunk on the floor of the house, but maybe she didn't look under the desks.

Loafer—Will you marry me?

Working Girl—I'm afraid not.

Loafer—Aw, come on, be a supporter.

The Lord will provide all right. Never doubt it. But you may find yourself bitterly dissatisfied with the way He provides.

The wife—Don't you think we ought to get mother a little present to take back with her when she goes? Can you suggest something?

The Brute—What about a nice big jar of vanishing cream?

It may be, as a woman's college inquiry shows, that men get mad twice as often as women, but don't the woman break even by getting twice as mad?

Jerry—Tom, are you ever troubled with sleeplessness?

Tom—I am. Some nights I don't sleep three hours.

Jerry—I pity you, then. I've got it awfully bad. I've been afflicted now for about three years. The doctor calls it "neurlo insomnia paralaxitis."

Tom (grunting)—I've had it about six months; but we call it a baby.

Horseradish is now being brightened up with the aid of beet juice. It is now a horseradish of another color.

The business man who retired to escape salesmen has returned to his office to avoid house-to-house canvassers.

Teacher—Your trouble is you don't address the ball properly.

Would-be Golfer—Well, I was polite as long as I could be.

What we need now is not men who are constantly asking the question Why?—but who can find the answer themselves.

TO HONOR CONCORD GRAPE AT FINGER LAKE FESTIVAL.

Ithaca, N. Y., July 14 (AP).—The dark blue Conrord grape, best known of them all in the Eastern states, will receive honor at the first Finger Lakes Grape Festival in October, when the harvest is at its height. In honor of the juicy, soft-pulped fruit, a grape king and a grape queen will be designated by the people of Ontario, Yates, Steuben, Seneca and Schuyler, all counties in the grape belt.

In New York state, approximately 75 per cent of all the grapes grown are Concords, and in the Chautauqua belt estimates put the Concord production as high as 85 per cent of the total. Thousands of acres of vineyards will be represented at the festival. Their vines twine their way about some 15,000 acres of grape yards in the so-called Lake Keuka district, 5,000 acres in the Seneca Lake district, and about 3,000 acres in the Canandaigua district.

You can count six layers of cord here, but the first two under the tread in this tire, (or in any so-called "six-ply" tire built this way) do not run from bead to bead. Some tire-makers count these as "plies," but they are really "breaker strips," so we call them that

Music for the dancing will be furnished by Ward Harrison's orchestra. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock and continue until 1 a. m. The fire company's posters have the following slogan on them: "You Help Us and We Will Protect You."

Considerable damage was done to the home of Maurice Dayton on Sands avenue last Wednesday evening, when a gasoline stove in the kitchen exploded. The damage is estimated at about $150. The Milton Fire Department was called about 6 o'clock Wednesday evening. Their timely appearance at the house helped very much in saving the greater part of the house. The kitchen was more damaged than any other part of the home. One whole wing, however, was damaged by smoke.

The Hudson River Fruit Exchange is shipping large quantities of currants to a Chicago firm. A carload was shipped last Tuesday, another on Thursday and Saturday. It is said the currants are all going to one firm and are selling for $80 a ton. The Exchange has sold 15 carloads to a Chicago preserver and these first three loads are part of the order. George Hilderbrand, manager of the Exchange, estimates the total crop in the fruit belt at about 900 tons.

The season for the roadside markets along the highway seems to have opened in earnest and many places are now doing a good business. The markets were well patronized over the week-end and those handling fruit at their roadside markets found it a good business over the week-end and with traffic continuing most of the week, the road stands have been kept fairly busy. A large quantity of fruit is being handled at the road markets now and undoubtedly better prices are being received at the stands for the fruit than by shipping it to city markets.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

TOM CAT AND GREY FOX BATTLE AT WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, July 14.—On Sunday morning Charles Hesley of West Shokan Heights was attracted by a commotion in his garden, which is located between the roadway and the wooded slopes of South mountain. Hearing loud screeches and yelps, he ran swiftly to the scene of action.

To his great amazement, Mr. Hesley found his old tom cat, "Patsy", and a grey fox in combat. "Patsy" has several additional toes on each paw, which enabled him to play the game well. It seemed that one or the other of the combatants would soon fall, for fur was flying through the air and the ground was becoming spattered with drops of blood. By this time, Mr. Hesley's son, Irving, surmised that some unusual feat must be taking place, so he likewise started toward the garden, with the trusty family shotgun over his shoulder. But before Irving had reached his destination "Fluffy", the dog, arrived on the scene and interceded for the Tom cat.

The fox, which otherwise would have fallen victim to Irving's shotgun, was chased far up the steep slopes of South mountain by "Fluffy". "Patsy" then returned to the barn, with his tail and back still ruffled, but apparently none the worse for the morning's fight, for he was the victor.

Airplane Idea in 1640

The airplane and submarine were thought of in the middle of the Seventeenth century. This was declared by J. F. Rees, principal of the University of South Wales. He referred to a book written about 1640 by Lord Herbert Raglan. The title is "A Century of Invention," and the volume contains 100 suggestions, among them being ideas for airplanes and submarines.

CHOICE OF A STATE PRISON OR UNCERTAIN EXISTENCE

Albany, N. Y., July 15 (AP)—Jack Diamond, Vannie Higgins — and Owney Madden?

Diamond died a cheap, if violent, death in a frowsy Albany rooming house. Higgins "went out" in a crackle of gunfire from an automobile cruising up beside him as he stepped along a New York city sidewalk. Madden, super racketeer, a few days ago fled to the gates of Sing Sing prison and talked his way into the comparative refuge of that grey stone institution.

A whisper has gone along the back streets of gangdom that Owney Madden's longevity might depend on whether the state division of parole decided he should serve out some three years and four months or should be turned loose. Released by the parole board and "on his own," Madden might stray across the muzzle of the guns that blew out the racketeering activities of Diamond and Higgins.

Investigators—official and casual—have a theory that goes as follows: Several months before the not unexpected death of the thin, pale Diamond at the hands of a triumvirate of mobsters, a Bronx group decided that New York city and the Hudson valley as far north as Rensselaer county and the cities of Troy and Albany was their territory for beer peddling and such other enterprises as might fit their machinery.

With this decided, they, the "Moustache Gang", sent word throughout the city and up along the valley that the opposition—each and all, Diamond and Madden included—should "take a boat", get out and shut up. Diamond didn't and he died. Higgins apparently was contrary and he followed Diamond through gunsmoke to oblivion. This, students of the situation point out, leaves Madden with a choice of a state prison or an uncertain existence.

The parole board has announced it will hear Madden's plea for freedom at some future meeting. The next meeting of the parole commissioners is at Sing Sing prison, Madden's present location, on August 18. Should the board decide to hold Madden on the ground that he violated the terms of his original parole, he could be confined in any one of the state's prisons, Sing Sing, Dannemora, Auburn, Attica or Great Meadow.

Novelty in Theater

Electricity was first used in a theater by the Savoy, New York city, in 1882. The play was "Iolanthe" and King Edward XII, then prince of Wales, was present.

Even the Great City Has Its Old Swimming Hole

Oui, Oui!

Convinced that the editorial "we" smacks of being a conventional camouflage for throwing dust in the eyes of the world, a South Carolina subscriber demands of the Columbia Record, "Why does an editor call himself 'we'?" "So," confesses the editor, "the man that doesn't like the article will think there are too many for him to lick."

$3,000,000 Fire In Coney Island

During the hours when the fire burned most fiercely hundreds of families became separated, and children were lost. This was another problem dumped upon police shoulders already heavy with the responsibility of maintaining order, aiding the firemen, clearing the streets and ministering to those needing aid.

Looters were quick to take advantage of the confusion. As men and women ran from bath houses at the shouts of "fire!" the [illegible] in and out of the bath houses, ahead of the flames, filching what they could.

Great Confusion.

Excitement was greatest in the bath houses where large numbers were preparing either to enter the surf or to dress. At the alarm, most of them ran out, some in bathing suits. Some partly dressed, and a few wearing nothing at all.

At Silver's baths, one of the places destroyed, several women were in the steam room. When they heard the cry of "fire" they did not stop to dress either because they could not immediately find their clothing or because they were fearful of delay. Most of them ran into the street with towels wrapped about them. Persons living nearby supplied them with clothing.

Automobiles parked in violation of ordinances beside fire plugs and in forbidden areas caused much delay to firemen.

Luna Park Untouched.

Luna Park and Steeplechase Park, best known of the Coney Island amusement places were untouched by the fire, which did its greatest damage in a square bounded by the boardwalk, Surf avenue, 21st and 25th streets.

There have been frequent fires at Coney Island. The Dreamland fire of 1911 was the most spectacular and also was the first to require "7-7" alarm in Brooklyn. The "7-7" is an alarm that calls out every available piece of fire fighting equipment in the borough.

In 1907 Steeplechase Park was destroyed by fire. The damage being estimated at $1,500,000.

The total damage from fires at Coney Island during the last quarter century is in excess of $12,000,000.

Soft Corns

Instant Relief for Those Hot Weather Foot Pests

Those itching, burning, painful torments on the soles of your feet and between the toes need not cost you another hour of misery.

They will respond INSTANTLY to a brisk rubbing with Moone's Emerald Oil. Mahon & Walker, druggists, say to use the oil two or three times a day and bind your corns at night with a cloth soaked in it. Apply it wherever your shoes rub.

Corns shrivel up and scale off as easy as can be in just a day or two, and all soreness goes—or money back.

Mandy, colored maid ..... Mrs. Harry Coleman

At the close of the program liberal slices of watermelons were served by the refreshment committee. There was a large attendance of Grangers present.

The Grangers' baseball team was victorious again on Sunday afternoon when they defeated the Mercury team from Newburgh by a score of 4-7. It was the closest and most hotly contested game of the season. Elmore Lozier umpired the game.

On Tuesday evening, July 19, members of the local Grange have accepted an invitation to meet with Highland Grange. The exchange program committee, Mrs. C. I. Thompson, Sheldon and Wilson Edmunds and Anna Doski will present the complete program on that evening. Many interesting features are being arranged.

The local Grangers will pay another visit also when on Monday evening, July 25, they will be entertained by Rosendale Grange.

The annual Grange picnic will be held on Saturday, July 30, at Orange Lake Park. All members are urged to reserve the date, as this is one of the big events in the year's calendar of the Grange activities.

The regular monthly social dance will be held this month on Friday evening, July 22. The Rainbow Orchestra will entertain.

Wife Was Fat No Longer Attractive

LOST HUSBAND'S LOVE

The above headlines appeared in a New York newspaper of April 4 in connection with a divorce trial that has attracted wide attention.

"She was a beautiful woman," one witness testified, "but she got fat and is not attractive any more."

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal just because they do not know what to do.

If you are fat how would you like to lose it and at the same time gain in physical charm and acquire a clean, clear skin and eyes that sparkle with buoyant health?

And gain in energy and activity?

Why not do what thousands of women have done to get rid of pounds of unwanted fat? Take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast and keep it up for 30 days. You can help the action of Kruschen by cutting down on pastry and fatty meats and potatoes, bacon or potatoes, butter, cream and sugar. Then weigh yourself and see how many pounds you have lost.

Kruschen Salts are a blend of 6 mineral salts most helpful to body health. Best of all, a bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last you for 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Ask McBride Drug Stores or any druggist for a bottle and start to lose fat today.

It's the safe way to reduce but be sure you get Kruschen—your health comes first and remember this if you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

Houston's Indian "Father"

John Jolly was the English name of the Cherokee chief who was the adopted father of General Houston. His native name was Ahuleidegi, which means "He who throws away the drum." His early life was spent in Tennessee, and it was there that Houston spent three years, acquiring a lifelong friendship for his adopted people.

Fearon Will Support Marvin For Governor

Syracuse, N. Y., July 14 (AP)—Senator George R. Fearon, one of the most influential of the upstate Republican leaders, will support Mayor Rolland B. Marvin of Syracuse for the Republican gubernatorial nomination if the mayor wants it.

The senator's announcement lifts the youthful mayor from the dark horse class to the front rank as a contender for the nomination. Marvin, although he has refused to admit that he would be a candidate, has not frowned, either, on the boom started for him by city officials.

Political observers here believe Marvin will be a candidate, and that he will have the backing of the powerful Syracuse organization.

Early Steamship Days

In 1864 the average steamer required about two weeks to cross the Atlantic, although the transatlantic voyage was made in much less time by some vessels. The record for the year 1864 was established by the Scotia of the Cunard line, which sailed from Queenstown to New York in 8 days 15 hours and 45 minutes.

Lived Under Bible Laws

In 1638 the New Haven colony (Connecticut) was begun by an English company under John Davenport. It allowed only church members to vote, and for many years had no laws but those of the Bible.

Kingston Horse Shoe Club Challenges Grube

The Kingston Horse Shoe Pitching Club, which has been in existence for some years and of late affiliated with the Hudson Valley Horse Shoe Pitching Organization, which has a charter from the national organization, issues a challenge to "Doc" Grube and his "barnyard golf" team in a game or series.

The Kingston Club team feels confident that it can stand up against any other local team since its record shows wins over teams from New York, Stamford, Conn., and Holyoke, Mass.

Probably a series will be played.

Bouts Tonight At Woodcliff Park

Joe Tinsley, Peekskill middleweight, will top the card at the bouts held in Woodcliff Pleasure Park in Poughkeepsie tonight. Unwelcome Occupants

"Wealth," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "is the golden key to youth's Castle of Dreams, where too often abide sad memory specters."—Washington Star.

Financial And Commercial

New York, July 14 (AP).—The securities markets clung tenaciously to their recent gains today, but for the moment at least, met with but limited success in efforts to extend them.

A little hangover liquidation appeared in spots, particularly American Can, which sagged a point in moderately active trading. Opening gains of a point or so in a number of the leaders were largely lost in a morning sag, but a firmer tendency appeared during the middle of the day.

Net gains of fractions to a point appeared in such issues as General Motors, American Telephone, Sears, Woolworth, DuPont, Bendix, United Aircraft, Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Pennsylvania, United Fruit, Lehman Corp., American Sugar, Johns Manville, Liggett and Meyers B, Consolidated Gas, and others. Utilities were notably firm, and Peoples Gas had one of its wide moves, rising a number of points.

Bond dealers reported a fairly good reception for the $40,000,000 of new public utility bonds put upon the market, the largest in many weeks, and this undoubtedly helped the utility shares.

Banking quarters were inclined to regard the new accord between France and England as constructive, inasmuch as it presumably indicated a united front in dealing with European problems of economic recovery.

Some of the recent buying in the local securities markets has come from abroad, notably London. Houses with European connections reported that the buying had been of a scattering nature, and there had been little inclination to bid for stocks on advances.

Bradstreet's weekly food index showed a gain for the fourth successive week, but some observers pointed out that it may take several more weeks, or even months, before it can be said with assurance that there has been a turn in commodities. Bar silver was up ⅛ cent to 26⅞ cents an ounce.

Successful Week at Camp Preumaker

Camp Preumaker, July 14—With overnight hikes in the Catskills for both older and younger boys as the principal feature, the first week of Camp Preumaker's fifth season came to a successful end Wednesday. Both hikes took place Monday night, the older boys climbing Wittenberg and the younger group spending the night at Mt. Marion. The Rev. A. J. Coffey met the older boys at Phoenicia and with his son, George, accompanied the group up Wittenberg. An exciting night was reported by the boys, three of whom were driven from a cave by two porcupines who had previously leased it for a residence.

Saturday night's campfire stunt competition was won by Cabin Three, which offered a dramatization of a tryout of Director Fuller's Ford by a prospective buyer. In this act were Harry and Charles Gumaer, William and Ralph Grothkopp, John Salvatore, Sherrill Keyser, Harry Flowers, Robert Winne, Robert Coutant. The dramatization was arranged by Francis Phillips, cabin leader, and Harry Gumaer.

An even more interesting competition, that for the highest weekly average in cabin inspection, found Cabin Four and Six tied at the end of the week with an average mark of 98.5. Each boy in these two cabins, whose leaders are Burt Streeter and Emil Swanson, received a reward of candy at the camp store.

A sun-tanning contest has been announced by Director Fuller, with the winner at the end of each two-week period receiving a prize. A severe case of sunburn automatically disqualifies a boy for the prize. Fewer cases of sunburn have been noticed in camp this year than in former seasons.

New boys arriving in camp Wednesday were: Robert Callahan, Robert Geisler, Herbert Greenwald, Alfred Gumaer, Donald McCausland, Robert and William Morehouse, Edward Schmalkuche, and Jackie Spader. Paul Haas, a member of the staff of leaders, has also arrived in camp, making a total of 60 boys and leaders for the second week of camp.

At The Theatres

Today

Kingston: "Amateur Daddy" Warner Baxter and Marion Nixon in a very sentimental story of a young construction engineer (Baxter), who gives up his career to care for a family of orphaned children. Marion Nixon is the eldest of the children and the real reason for the young engineer's action. Good entertainment for the whole family.

Orpheum: "The Single Sin" and the "Ghost City." The first is a well acted story with Kay Johnson carrying off the honors. Bert Lytell and Paul Hurst also give good performances. Not a new plot but splendidly acted. The second offers Bill Cody and Andy Shuford in another western thriller.

Broadway: "Bachelor Affairs." Adolphe Menjou gives another of his splendid performances in this riotous and somewhat sophisticated comedy. Enjoyable entertainment.

Tomorrow

Kingston: Same.

Orpheum: "Careless Lady" and "The Arizona Terror". Joan Bennett is the featured player in the first picture of this double feature offering. John Boles heads the supporting cast. "Arizona Terror" with Ken Maynard and his trusty horse, "Tarzan", is a western tale of the great open spaces.

Broadway: Same.

Home Bureau Camp For Women At Delhi

Home Bureaus of eastern New York are planning camp for women at Delhi, Delaware county this summer. Previously this has been sponsored by the Delaware County Home Bureau for the Delaware County Home Bureau only. This year the Delaware County Home Bureau is extending an invitation to adjoining counties to share the summer camp with them. The 4-H Club leaders are also invited to camp with the Home Bureau ladies this year.

The following information has been received at the Ulster County Home Bureau office from Miss Beatrice Fehr, Home Bureau manager, of Delaware county.

Leader's Camp

Camp Shankintunk, Fraser's, N. Y. August 8-13.

Camp opens Sunday, August 8, 1932, first meal at camp at noon. It closes Saturday, August 13, last meal and dinner.

Studies

Craft work will be taught by Mrs. J. A. Lennox and will include skill puzzles, new styles of stools with fancy new seats, garden and lawn accessories and new leather belts for women. D. B. Failles, Greene County Club Agent, will teach the skill puzzles.

First Aid lessons including practice in different bandages will be taught by the camp nurse.

Nature hikes will be conducted by J. A. Lennox, Delaware County Club Agent.

Swimming will be taught by Alice King and Red Cross buttons awarded where earned.

Games will include group games and folk games and singing games.

The entire camp is to be very definitely a leader's camp and each person attending should carry away many things which can be used for both entertainment and education at local meetings of the group he or she represents.

Vesper Service

Vespers are conducted each evening on Vesper Knoll. Campers assist various members of the Delaware County Clergy Club who kindly gives these services for us.

Campfire

The crowning hour of the day. Entertainment furnished by the campers themselves is always peppy and enthusiastic. It is here, gathered within the council ring that the daily newspaper is read, each camper outdoes the other with stunts and stories, and on the last night camp awards are made.

What to Bring

Plenty of bedding, your own camp clothes, notebook and pencil and any musical instruments, cameras, etc., you can bring.

Canvas cots are furnished. Shelter is in tents with real floors. A nice dining hall and kitchen and frame craft building are a part of camp equipment.

The fee is $8 for the week which includes $1 toward any craft material you want to buy. Three dollars is required with the application. Applications close Saturday, August 6, 1932.

For further information regarding the camp, write, Miss Beatrice Fehr, Home Bureau Manager, Delhi, N. Y. All applications must be in by Saturday, August 6.

TALES OF THE CHIEFS

By Editha L. Watson

JOSEPH

Chief Joseph of the Nez Perce tribe has been famed as one of the most remarkable Indians in the United States. He was tall, straight as the proverbial arrow, and as impressive as he was handsome. He was a great leader and a successful warrior, when fortune was with him, but his retreat toward the Canadian border, "worthy to be remembered with that of Xenophon's Ten Thousand," is always recalled when Joseph's name is spoken.

Joseph

He was born in Oregon about 1840, and was a hereditary chief of the Nez Perce. His natural gift for oratory was of considerable use in his dealings with the white men, and though it is said that he never spoke in English, his translated speeches are worthy of notice, and have been quoted many times.

His father, Joseph the elder, was careful to teach him not to sign treaties nor to sell the land of his people. This principle was faithfully adhered to by the chief, and it was the cause of the war between his people and the white men. According to Joseph's own story, a Nez Perce called Lawyer assumed rights which he did not possess, and sold the Wallowa country (belonging to Joseph's band), with all the rest of the Nez Perce land outside the Lapwai reservation, to the whites.

The elder Joseph and his son, who did not want to part with the land, had no share in this treaty and felt that they were wronged. Then the old chief died, and was buried in the beautiful valley where he had lived, and this was one more tie binding Joseph to his country: "I love that land more than all the rest of the world. A man who would not love his father's grave is worse than a wild animal."

More and more sternly, the white men demanded that the Nez Perces should leave the valley and go on their reservation. Each time the Indians reiterated that they had not sold the land, and continued to live there, hoping for an adjustment in their favor. The white men moved ever closer, and took more land. The Indians complained, but were told to go on the reservation. Finally, affairs came to a climax. Both sides were guilty of attacks and depredations. War was declared. The whites suffered severe losses at first, as Joseph's generalship and use of tactics were brilliant.

It later became necessary for the Indians to retreat, and this movement is one of the most famous in the history of Indian warfare. With about 300 warriors, their wives and children, the band started for Canada, hoping to join Sitting Bull. Behind them was General Howard and Colonel Sturgis and his Indian scouts were on their flank. Colonel Miles, that adept in the art of Indian warfare, was rapidly marching in to intercept them before they could reach the border.

Almost 2,000 miles through enemy territory, the remarkable leader brought his people. Their few warriors were opposed by nearly seven times as many soldiers. Their conduct was praiseworthy, as they did not commit depredations, fighting only when they encountered troops.

Finally, fresh troops in front compelled a halt, and for four days the Nez Perce battled against the soldiers. General Howard had come up to join Colonel Miles, and the odds were too great to be longer resisted.

Eighty-seven warriors, almost half of whom were wounded, 184 women and almost as many children were the remnant who submitted to the white soldiers. Joseph sent a message of surrender, in which he lamented the woes of his people, and closed by saying, "Hear me, my chiefs, my heart is sick and sad. From where the sun now stands, I will fight no more with the white man."

After their surrender, the Nez Perce were taken to Indian territory, where they longed for their Idaho lands, and about half of them were later allowed to return, but Joseph and the rest were sent to the Colville reservation in Washington. Here he became interested in the advancement of his people under government rule, and bent all his energies to furthering the cause of education and discouraging drunkenness and gambling.

In 1897, worried by encroaching whites, the grand old chief went to Washington, on behalf of his tribe. However, General Miles, the only white man whom he trusted, promised him that his people should remain unmolested, and he returned to the reservation, confident of peace.

Six years later, Joseph made another trip to the Capital. This was a friendly visit, during which he took part in an Indian exhibition. This was to be his last journey, for he died September 22, 1904.

Cyrus Townsend Brady, writing of the famous chief, has described his death as follows: "The other day a gray-haired old chief, nodding by the fire, dreaming perhaps of days of daring and deeds of valor, by which, savage though he was, he had written his name on the pages of history, slipped quietly to the ground and fell into his eternal sleep."

Rotary Club Held Session Wednesday

The meeting of the Rotary Club on Wednesday was somewhat longer than usual with a number of important items of business. After the luncheon the following guests were introduced: Augustus P. Modjeska of Kingston; John Thompson, son of Rotarian Frank Thompson, and John Desch of Detroit, Michigan.

The new board of directors for 1932-33, consisting of W. Anderson Carl, Ray Elmendorf, Wilier Elston, Henry Fagher, Joseph Mortan, Arthur Nelson and Alfred Schmid, were presented to the club. The officers: Arthur Nelson, vice president; Albert Kurdt, secretary; Arthur Connelly, treasurer; Frank Flanagan, sergeant-at-arms and Arthur Carr, deputy sergeant-at-arms were also presented.

Scout Executive W. A. Wright then announced that the Catskill Club would have its regular meeting on Tuesday, July 19, at the Boy Scout camp near Cairo and extended an invitation to the Kingston Club to attend. Ten members of the club signified they would attend.

Sam Maroon, the 1932 graduate from the Kingston High School, who won the Rotary prize for being the outstanding high school student, was presented. He responded by thanking the club for offering the prize won by him. This award made him more eager to fulfill the requirements and was sure it had considerable influence in many other high school boys.

The meeting was then turned over to W. A. Wright, who introduced Roy Sutliff, who presented two very interesting movietone reels on motor car production and the automobile industry.

The funeral of Mrs. M. H. Dunbar was held from her late home on Levan street Monday afternoon with religious services in charge of the Rev. Fred Deming of Trinity M. E. Church, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Winchell of Ashokan, a friend of the family. The cortege to Wiltwyck cemetery was a long one and floral offerings were many and beautiful.

Roxbury, July 14.—Mrs. A. S. Rutherford was called to Halcottville Saturday by the death of her brother, Daniel S. Humphrey, of that place. Mr. Humphrey had been in failing health for some time and had been receiving treatment at the Margaretville Hospital, where his death occurred. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Old School Baptist Church at Halcottville. The Rev. H. S. Van Woert, pastor of the Roxbury Gould Memorial Church, officiated.

Rap at Civilization

Once men sang together round a table in chorus; now one man sings alone, for the absurd reason that he can sing better. If scientific civilization goes on (which is most improbable) only one man will laugh, because he can laugh better than the rest.—G. K. Chesterton.

Cards Credited to Gypsies

Playing cards are said to have originated in India, probably being brought into Europe by wandering tribes of gypsies about 700 years ago.

Wood Hurls Good Ball As Caseys Trim Railroaders

Art Wood, one-armed pitcher of the Knights of Columbus, was a happy-looking boy on leaving the Athletic Field Wednesday evening as he had turned in his second consecutive victory when he elbowed his team to a 7-5 win over the West Shore Railroaders.

The win enabled the Caseys to pass the Railroaders in the City League race and are now in a virtual tie with the Taiclets and Schryvers for second place.

Wood was hit hard in spots and wasn't as good as he was in his game against Forst last week, but nevertheless he proved to have the staying qualities and was still pitching at the finish although the Railroaders threatened to shell him from the mound in the last inning. Eleven hits in all were made off his delivery.

Young Johnny Murphy opposed Wood at the beginning of the game and went along fine during the early frames. The pace got a bit hot and was a little too much for him and he weakened in the fourth inning but managed to stay until the sixth, only to be knocked from the mound in that inning before he could get a man out. Tommy Lewis followed Murphy and Knight replaced Lewis in the seventh and finished the contest.

Johnny Carpenter had a gala night with the willow, getting four hits out of four times at bat. Jimmy Steigerwald starred on the defense for the Caseys.

The Railroaders scored first, manufacturing a run in the second inning on Lay's double and Connelly's single. In the third they produced two more.

Williams opened the inning with a single to right field, reached second on Hoffman's sacrifice and registered on Knight's single to right field. Knight was forced at second by Lay, who advanced a base on Steigerwald's bad throw to first base. Lay dented the rubber on Morgan's singe to center field.

The Caseys were unable to score till the fourth inning, then they shoved two runs across the platter on singles by Carpenter, Fitzgerald and Palmer. Carpenter scored as a result of a double steal and Fitzgerald tallied on Palmer's hit.

Carpenter's third hit, a double, Clayton's single, an infield out and a wild pitch netted the Caseys two more runs in the sixth and in the seventh they scored three more, which proved to be the winning markers.

A walk to Burgevin, singles by Steigerwald and Carpenter and Clarke's double, which climaxed the rally, accounted for the runs in the last inning.

A belated rally by the Railroaders in which Joey Hoffman poled a triple threatened to tie the score, but they lacked the necessary punch and after scoring twice the Caseys checked the attack and went away with the game.

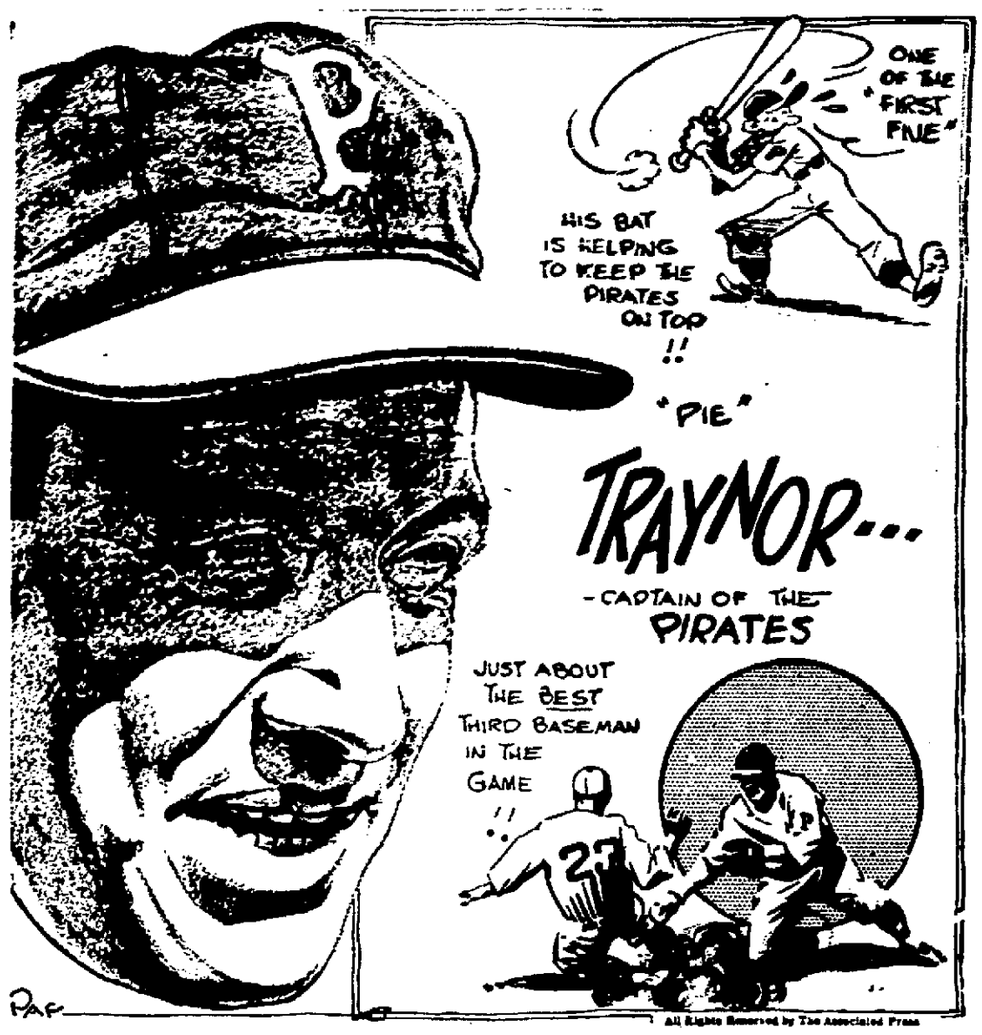
Pirates' Pick —By Pap



Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press)

That heroic figure of the last world series, Burleigh Grimes, must have been a source of the keenest disappointment to Rogers Hornsby the last few months.

The Cubs manager, hungry for a pennant and with a team that needed but very little help to make it a sure fire contender, apparently made the smartest kind of a move when he acquired Grimes in the famous deal that sent Hack Wilson on his way. But the once great spitballer has failed to produce, and it is only because Lonnie Warneke, the Arkansas youngster, has come through so spectacularly that the Cubs are where they are today.

Grimes Disappointing.

Grimes, who won 17 while losing 9 for the Cardinals last year and pitched two brilliant games in the big series, thus far has been able to win only four for Hornsby and has lost eight. After illness set him back at the start of the race, the veteran righthander started well and it looked for a time that he was set for a big year, but something slipped about a month ago and he has been of practically no value since. Doing relief work mostly, he has lost five straight and was knocked from the box his last three starts.

Grimes' inability to regain his stride cost the Cubs a 5 to 4 defeat by Brooklyn yesterday and deprived them of a much needed victory. Relieving Bob Smith in the sixth he got by only one inning before the Dodgers fell on him for the winning hits. As the Pittsburgh Pirates were dropping a pair to Boston, the defeat kept the Cubs from climbing within a single game of the league leaders.

Boston Wins Two.

Ed Brandt and Tom Zachary were the pair who stopped the crippled Pirates. Brandt yielded only seven hits in winning the first game, 5 to 1, and Zachary coasted to a 10 to 5 win in the nightcap.

The St. Louis Cardinals won their fourth straight and again went above the .500 mark as Paul Derringer set the Giants down, 6 to 2. Pinky Whitney's first inning triple with two on and his double to open the fourth later to score on Todd's sacrifice, gave the Phillies a 3 to 2 triumph over Cincinnati.

Continuing to thrive on Philadelphia pitching, the Cleveland Indians romped on the A's again, 7 to 5, in 10 innings and went into second place in the American League by a percentage point. Grove went the last four innings to be charged with his second defeat in as many days. Chalmers Cissell broke up the game with his "money" single in the tenth.

Boston's Red Sox not only took their second straight from Detroit, 8 to 7, but chalked up their first series of the season, three games to two. Jolley's double and two singles drove in three Boston runs.

Babe Hits 25th.

Home runs by Babe Ruth and Frankie Crosetti, each with one aboard, gave the Yankees their final with St. Louis, 5 to 3. It was No. 25 for the Babe. Washington hammered three Chicago White Sox pitchers for 16 hits and a 15 to 4 victory.

Yesterday's STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Chalmers Cissell, Indians—His tenth inning single gave the Indians their fourth straight over the Athletics.

Babe Ruth and Frank Crosetti, Yankees—Their home runs, each with a runner on base, beat the Browns.

Pinky Whitney, Phillies—Drove in two runs and scored another to lick the Reds, 3 to 2.

Paul Derringer, Cardinals—His eight-hit pitching downed the Giants.

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Wimbledon has never proved much so far as American Davis Cup chances are concerned, at least in recent years.

Wilmer Allison walloped Henri Cochet early in the British singles championship one season, but it was a different Cochet who turned back the U. S. challenge later in Paris.

Last year the Yankees had the Wimbledon singles final all to themselves, with Wood and Shields topping the whole field, but these two failed even to reach the Challenge Round.

Again this year Cochet was an early round victim, this time at the hands of an Englishman, Ian Collins, but anyone who thinks the little Frenchman is headed for a Davis Cup beating on that account probably can get twenty for every five he cares to wager on the proposition.

The improvement by Ellsworth Vines is the best news from the foreign courts. The slender Californian has had his admirers upset most of the spring but they still hold the conviction he will be at his best when the Davis Cup stakes are involved.

With Vines it is largely a matter of control and experience, since the two factors go hand-in-hand. He has everything else in the way of strokes, stamina and temperament necessary to become a world champion.

No Matter How It's Sliced.

Among the numerous backhand shots brought on by the Sharkey-Schmeling fracas, this Iowa postscript is worth nothing:

"If the opinion of an expert, who is really expert at reading between the lines and inconsistencies and illogicalities of the accepted experts, were to be voiced, it would be that a cheese champion was fairly closely defeated by another champion of the fromage genus.

"And I might add that I have a slogan that all experts might profit exceedingly by chanting every time they take up their onerous task of experting. It is: 'Be logical or be a reader'."

The answer, of course, being that if logic prevailed, there would be no fights, fistic or political.

Keep Chins Up.

The British have been asking themselves this spring why their athletes fail so often in combat with Americans, at home as well as abroad. Especially were they upset by the defeat of their Wightman Cup team in women's tennis.

"An impression forced upon me during the play," remarks one London critic, "was that the Americans were much the steadier. Their mistakes were fewer. It is their consistency which tells.

"Another point about the Americans—and this applies to every sport—is that they rarely develop an inferiority complex, no matter how the game is going against them."

And that, my friends, happens to hit the nail right smack on the head.

Country's Best Golf Professionals Seek Metropolitan Title

New York, July 14 (AP)—Many of the country's best known professionals, including McDonald Smith, defending champion, were entered in the 72-hole metropolitan open golf championship starting today on the Lido links at Long Beach, Long Island.

Smith seeks his fourth metropolitan crown, having first won the event in 1914.

Those figured to give the Carnoustie veteran a tussle included Johnny Farrell, Leo Diegel, Bobby Cruickshank, the Dutra brothers, Olin and Mortie, and Phil Perkins, the former British amateur star.

Playing over his home course, which he recently toured in 64, eight under par, Perkins stacks up as a logical favorite to lead the field in the three-day play.

Final Olympic Tryouts Held on Friday and Saturday

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor).

Palo Alto, Calif., July 14 (AP)—America's warning to the invading army of athletes seems likely to be sounded with record-smashing emphasis in the final Olympic track and field tryouts, Friday and Saturday, before upwards of 30,000 spectators in Stanford University's stadium.

Combined with the National Senior A. A. U. championships for 1932, the decisive tests for the American team, which will carry the shield in the blue-ribbon events of the tenth Olympiad at Los Angeles two weeks hence, have brought together the greatest collection of track and field stars in the country's history.

Eastman To Run 400-Meters.

The team, barring extraordinary developments, will stand on the results of the tryouts. The desire of Ben Eastman, famous Stanford runner, to compete only in the 400-meter run, has disposed of the talk of picking him, without trial, for the 800-meters. Since his defeat in the intercollegiate 440 by Bill Carr of Pennsylvania, Big Ben has been pointed for a return duel and "revenge", in the 400-meters. Eastman and Carr are "seeded" in separate heats of the 400 tomorrow.

Finals Saturday.

The preliminaries tomorrow will reduce the all-star field, from around 300 athletes to not more than 125 for Saturday's finals. This will be cut in half again by the deciding tests. The first three in each of 15 events will qualify for the Olympic team, in addition to which extra men will be chosen for the 400 and 1600 meter relay teams.

Although the spotlight focuses on a flock of Pacific coast stars, all eager to add the California touch to California's Olympics, the dope-sheets indicated the east and middle west will contribute most of the place-winners. On a consensus of experts, the prospects point to these results: East, 29; Mid-west, 21; Far West, 17; South, 2. This includes the selections already made for the decathlon and marathon, as well as the relay probabilities, to complete the track and field lineup.

Aside from the Carr-Eastman "natural", the chief thrills of the tryouts are expected to be furnished by the sprints and 1500-meter run, nearest Olympic equivalent to the mile. Emmett Toppino, the New Orleans flash, and Ralph Metcalfe, big Marquette negro flier, ruled the favorites in the 100 and 200-meter dashes, respectively, as the result of latest workouts.

Wykoff To Try 100 and 200.

Metcalfe looked like the best bet to make both sprints, although Frank Wykoff, of Southern California, contrary to original expectations, now plans to make a bid in both dashes. Eddie Tolan, the dusky speedster, also has caught the fancy of critics.

Wykoff, the intercollegiate champion, was a prime choice to extend Toppino in the 100. Hec Dyer of the Los Angeles A. C., and Bib Kiesel, blond California bullet, have decided to concentrate on the 200. Sprinters trying for the "double" will have to contest three races each day. The first trials and semi-finals of the 100-meter dash are scheduled Friday, as well as trials for the 200. On Saturday the program calls for the 100-meter final, 200-meter semi-finals and final. All six of the 100-meter semi-finalists probably will make the team, due to the necessity of forming a 400-meter relay lineup.

The 1500 meter run, for which there will be two trial heats tomorrow to select seven finalists, promises to develop a great struggle between the east and mid-west. Among others, Gene Venzke, "Pen" Hallowell, Joe Mangan and Leo Lermond, eastern stars, will match strides with Glenn Cunningham, of Kansas and Henry Brocksmith of Indiana. All have beaten 4:15 for the mile and Venzke, indoors, ran to a world record of 4:10.

There will be no preliminaries in the high jump, pole vault, 3000 meter steeplechase, 5,000 and 10,000 meter runs.

Few Tuscaroras Left.

The Tuscarora Indian tribe of the Iroquoian family originally numbered about 5,000 in North Carolina. Encroachments by the whites, including kidnaping of their children into slavery, led to a war with the settlers (1711-13), and afterwards the surviving Tuscaroras fled or drifted northward and were admitted into the League of the Iroquois as a sixth nation. About 700 are now living in Canada and New York.

Local Legion Team Wins Championship

The Kingston American legion team copped the Ulster County Championship Wednesday night at the Kingston Fair Grounds when it defeated Saugerties Legion, 12-4 in the fourth and final elimination game of the playoff. Four elimination games were played and Kingston won all, beating both Saugerties and Ellenville.

Hard hitting by the locals led to their success. In fact it was responsible for the success throughout the entire elimination tilts. They got nine hits to four for the Saugerties team, and the majority of the locals' clouts were good sound connections. Tiano led the Kingston team with the stick having two doubles and a single to his credit.

Van Derree and Uhle did the hurling for the local legion. Van Derree pitched most of the game and had seven strikeouts. Uhle also did some fine work.

Kingston is now on the road towards the state championship. They play Saturday afternoon at Valatie. Valatie won the Columbia county championship.

Kingston Colonials Play Saugerties

Sunday afternoon at 3:15 the Kingston Colonials will meet the Saugerties A. C. at the village. Herbie Myers, manager of the Colonials has not issued the official lineup as yet, but said this morning he would be ready to publish it by Friday. Although it is complete to a great extent a new addition may be made to the pitching staff and a change made in the field.

Myers is expecting good results from the boys in this game. He has carefully selected a combination that has all the marks of developing into one of the finest in this section. Although the Colonials have been defeated this season by the All-Stars, Myers is in hopes of another match and turning the tables.

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

Thousands who have itching, bleeding or protruding piles have not yet learned that quick and lasting relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor suppositories remove the cause.

Bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The hemorrhoidal veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To get rid of Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation, drive out the thick impure blood, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, after years of study, found a real internal Pile remedy. He called his discovery HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients with success in over 900 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer, no matter how stubborn their case, might try his prescription with a money back guarantee.

So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when McBride Drug Stores and all good druggists invite you to try HEM-ROID tablets with guarantee of money refunded if they do not end your Pile misery.
